

An interview with HRH Prince Leonard on the Spiritual.

In an ordinary world where everything seems to have a set pattern, could we maybe understand that pattern and use it to weave an extraordinary world?

How was it possible for a farmer to become a Prince and create his own nation within Australia?

Prince Leonard of the Principality of Hutt River, appears to have a sublime connection to the creative force of the universe, he would like to share with everyone this reconnection through the logic and reasoning of mathematics and physics.

It doesn't take long at all to sense Prince Leonard's spiritual vitality that ironically has a strong practical foundation.

He isn't a religious man, yet using an analytical, rational and logical mind he has discovered what he refers to as the energy of creation.

"A lot of ancient concepts, especially in religion, have got a reasonable amount of validity in their concepts, but, generally they need polishing up to get them relatively correct to nature and science. The concepts of 2000 years ago need updating."

"When you are doing science or physics, you don't destroy the concepts unless you can replace them"

"Fibonacci sequence which is the structure of all living matter...yet it doesn't explain why it's there..."

"The Fibonacci series was known long before Fibonacci....it was known in Ancient China. Fibonacci is better known for it because he came into prominence for using it"

"Buddhism is the closest concept to explaining the universe"

Prince Leonard says with a wink, "The Vatican was very helpful years ago with research...they burnt everyone along with the books"

"In one of my books I gave a mathematical formula that proves that energy of creation is in you and everyone...142857. I also found 3 Nature's constants NC26" 26 is the number of spiritual, 28 is the universal energy & NC27 is the number that binds them together"

Asked how he discovers these formula's he explains that he uses the mind eye and allows his sub-conscious to assist him. Consciously he looks at a problem from every angle, then goes for a drive on the farm to clear his mind, confidently knowing in the meantime that his subconscious is working out the problem. "I push the sub-conscious to work like you make a computer to work, but unlike a computer sometimes it will work, even when I don't want it to"

"I have an enquiring mind...as a 16 year old, when I had a quiet day, I would read an act of parliament....just for the fun of reading it"

Asked when he first started working on the spiritual he explains it was three years after seceding when he was asked by a bible reading friend and citizen in Queensland to write about the numbers in the 'Book of Revelations' because he knew Prince Leonard was good with numbers.

"Back then and still now I am not a bible reader. I do not study or read the bible" It was only because he was a citizen and friend that he did the research. He wrote up 34 pages and gave it to his friend. Afterwards he came up with the thought, "Is this Spiritual Real? Or is it not?...I thought, let's have a look, a REAL look and find out. So I set about to research spiritual. To do that you're investigating something that you basically can't see, you can't touch, you wonder, is it there or is it not? It's not unlike gravity...we believe it's there because it does things, but where is it? What is it?" On a side note, Prince Leonard was a researcher in the field of gravity so he was confident he could look into gravity"

He wondered how to prove something that isn't seen. He started with the knowledge that everything exists according to mathematics, he started by using word conversions into numbers he used the English language for that.

He was reluctant to talk about his own personal experience of spirituality, when asked he replied, "If you talk about the feeling of spirituality then people think you are a crank. I try to keep the explanations in pure mathematics and physics. If we talk about the other part of spirituality then you are getting into greater depth"

When he was reassured that the Chinese culture has a great respect and understanding of the more sublime and 'feeling' of the spirit, Qi or Tao he opened up a little and shared something intriguing, He said he could sense that there was a greater force supporting him throughout the secession. He had a sense of knowing that everything would be alright. Consequently he didn't require an army to win over 3 government departments (Local Council, State and Federal)

From my understanding of the spiritual, we are all equal. Nobody is greater or better than any other person. "The only difference is that some of us can feel the spiritual better than others"

"The Spiritual is not a supernatural being 'God'"

The Vatican invited Prince Leonard to share his findings on the spiritual. When asked how did it make him feel, considering that the Church had been responsible for destroying so many of the sacred advanced teachings of ancient civilizations he replied, "The church is run by human people and human people do many bad, stupid things....so the Vatican is no better than the average person, in a way. The actual principal is to do good, yet it doesn't always turn out that way"

"There is an intelligence in the particles of matter...all the way through to an intelligence in the rotation of the universe"

He is an expert in diplomacy. To share his spiritual perspective in Iran was a most delicate line to tread. If anyone dares to say against the official Islamic teachings than there could have a fatwa against that individual.

"I said to one of Iran's representatives, 'take this book (my teachings on spiritual mathematics)' I told them that they ought to get onto it, so that they could teach

America something, They said, “Oh, yes, right.....after the elections we will have a look at this”

“There was no Fatwa...despite telling them they are wrong...It is always important the manner in which you use diplomacy. Now they want me to send books for them”

“I am writing my next book. It is a little like if you have a car...you need to know how it works. Well I have a body and I want to know how it works...I want to learn about myself...I want to impart to other people what I have learnt”

“Our brains become programmed or ‘brainwashed into certain ways of thinking...to try and change people over a certain age is impossible. Changes will come from the young ones, in University and in general public. If you are going to do this you need to start changing the universities...my understanding is that the young ones are seeking this kind of information”

A lot of people know that religions are based on teachings that are false. If they don’t adopt the concepts that are known and can be proven then many religions will destroy themselves.

“A few years ago there was a ban in the USA about teaching and learning about the energy of creation. There are some universities apposed it”

I said to him, “It makes you wonder who has got most to lose and what is to be gained if we understood the true nature of existence.”

He has a very light hearted side also, He said that when Chinese ladies are writing their names in Chinese onto their Hutt River Visa’s in Chinese characters he will look at it and tell them,

“Oh, that is a very pretty name” of course they agree and are impressed that he can read Chinese. He smiles and says, “I can’t really read Chinese”

He has plans to create a university by the beach on Hutt River territory dedicated to teaching young students about the mathematics of spirituality.
